Orti de’ Tolomei

Visit Siena

Olive trees and open views near Sant’Agostino.

Plan it with the Fisiocritici museum or the Via di Città side of Siena. Check local access and the weather before relying on it as your only rest stop.

Why stop here

This garden offers a small change of atmosphere on the southern side of the historic centre. It works well when you want air and a view without making a tower climb the main event.

A useful visit

Visit in daylight, enjoy the view and take a pause. For an evening plan, come before dusk and continue back toward the centre afterwards.

What to consider

The approach still includes slopes. Outdoor comfort depends on weather, and a garden is not a guaranteed late-night stop.
